Overview of Arizona Election Night Reporting

The Arizona Secretary of State uses an online tool called Election Night Reporting (ENR) to display results from elections on a Web site. The Web interface provides visitors with a graphical view of in-depth state and county results. You are presented with a breakdown of votes received for a choice by race. Maps illustrate the counties or precincts reporting, voter turnout, and results by county or precinct. A reporting area provides downloadable reports and custom filtering of results.

How do I access Election Night Reporting?

Election Night Reporting can be accessed at the Arizona Secretary of State Web site <http://www.azsos.gov>. On the left menu select Elections->Upcoming Elections. Select the desired election then select the link for Unofficial Election Results Web Based Reporting.

When and how often will the results be updated?

Once the precinct polling locations have closed, the results are reported to the county. The state aggregates results, and then begins reporting results to the public via the ENR tool. Updates occur throughout the night until all counties have reported their results for the evening. The results will continue to be updated for several days after the election until all ballots have been tallied.

How do I navigate Election Night Reporting?

The following pages will step you through how to navigate the ENR tool.

We will review the following areas:

- Home Page
- Synopsis Area
- Summary Tab
- Counties Reporting Tab
- Voter Turnout Tab
- Reports Tab
- Viewing County Results

Synopsis area

The synopsis area is a constant view toward the top of the page that displays regardless of the tab you click. Within the synopsis area, you can find important information, such as:

- A time stamp that shows when the Web site was last updated with results
- Number of registered voters for the state (specific to the current election)
- Number of ballots cast for the state (specific to the current election)
- Voter turnout percentages—based on the ratio of registered voters to ballots cast
- Number of precincts partially reported
- Number of precincts completely reported
- Percentage of precincts completely reported

Counties Reporting tab

The Counties Reporting tab displays a state map of the status for the counties reporting. When a county begins to report Election Day votes, the map will be shaded purple, indicating that the county has begun to report results. When all Election Day votes have been reported for a county, the map will be shaded green to indicate the county is completely reporting. Pointing to a county on the state map with your mouse displays the county name.

The screenshot shows the Arizona Secretary of State's website interface. At the top, it features the Secretary of State Ken Bennett's name and the State of Arizona logo.
