The Arizona Housing Finance Authority (AzHFA) was established at the same time as the Arizona Department of Housing (ADOH), for the purpose of offering tax-exempt bond financing for rural areas of Arizona. The financing is provided by the AzHFA through the loan of proceeds resulting from the issuance of private activity bonds. The AzHFA's bond obligations are not general obligations of the AzHFA or the State of Arizona. Additionally, the AzHFA may establish mortgage credit certificate programs to finance dwelling units in rural areas. The AzHFA is required to notify and obtain written consent from the governing bodies of any city, town, county, tribal government or existing corporation for any multifamily residential rental projects planned for their jurisdiction.

Due to the over saturated single-family housing market in Arizona; the agency utilized its resources toward alternative homeownership programs to better address the current housing crisis. In FY2011, the agency was able to assist nearly 600 individuals in the purchase of foreclosed homes, assist first time homebuyers with down payment assistance, and aid individuals in avoiding foreclosure.
